

Loving Kind

by The Tonk Honkys © 2013

She's been dancing in a circle to a broken record
And baby it's the same song that I hear in my head
Can't find no melody, and I never get the words right
And no, it ain't a love song, baby...

You never were the loving kind, never were the loving kind
You never were the loving kind, never were the loving kind

Up the hill and around the world, I took you for a long ride girl
You lost your mind and your memories
Seeing things that you don't ever want to believe Keep looking but you're never gonna find...

You never were the loving kind, never were the loving kind
You never were the loving kind, never were the loving kind

She's been speaking in tongues and that's all she knows
I hear the words you're saying, coming out of your mouth
Dirty words you ain't ever gonna find...

You never were the loving kind, never were the loving kind
You never were the loving kind, never were the loving kind